Join us to celebrate the release of Daughters of Green Mountain Gap, the third novel released by award winning local author Teri M. Brown. Her latest novel, set in Appalachia, features three generations of remarkable women grappling with their unique roles in a changing world. Brown is a graduate of UNC Greensboro and winner of the 2022 Incipere Award for Historical Fiction, as well as a Finalist in the 2023 Feathered Quill Book Awards for Women's Fiction. Teri is a wife, mother, grandmother, and author who loves word games, bumming on the beach, and ballroom dancing. Learn more about her works at www.terimbrown.com.
